Report Big Three Accept Proposal On Berlin Issue

Vishinsky Also Said To Favor New Plan—No Official Action Yet

NEUTRALS HOPE TO BERLIN COMPROMISE

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The U. S., Britain and France were reported today to have accepted the latest small-power compromise on the Berlin blockade.

The western Big Three's formal answer will be presented to Security Council President Juan A. Bramuglia later this afternoon. Bramuglia's plan calls for a commission made up of currency experts of the "Little Six" council members to meet with Big Four monetary spokesmen so as to reach an agreement on Berlin's money.

No Confirmation
Russia's Andrei Vishinsky has been reported in agreement with the proposal, but there has been no official confirmation of this.

The western powers, following a meeting this morning, were said to have accepted Bramuglia's new plan in general, but to have cautioned that the consultations must involve only the currency angle, and not any political considerations.

Bramuglia hopes to achieve East-West agreement on the use of the Soviet-issued mark in Berlin. This would be followed by lifting of the blockade, under his new formula.

Still Optimistic
The "neutrals" are still optimistic over a possible Berlin settlement, despite renewed Communist agitation, in the blockaded city. (German Communists massed for)

From the number of deer reported shot in Lawrence County on Monday, first day of the deer season, it appears that Lawrence County has almost joined the big game hunting territory of the state.

Hitchhiking at various exits to the city was in effect on Monday. Evidently a number of the would-be passengers were college students getting back to school following the holiday vacation period.

Dave Wheale of Union Township, R. D. 2, bagged an eight-point buck Monday in Clearfield county. Wheale was hunting north of DuBois when he sighted his prey.

Sighting the first deer he ever saw, in Hog Hollow, early Monday afternoon, Milton Barron, 14, of R. D. 1, brought it down at 100 yards running. He got his eight-point 200-pound buck about 1 o'clock.

Richard (Dick) Biddle of 1105 Highland avenue, got his deer Monday morning about 8:45 o'clock near Folk, Pa. It weighed about 160 pounds and carried only three points.

Bob West of the Old Plank road reports that he brought down his buck Monday morning at 11 o'clock near Marionville, Pa. It was a six-pointer and weighed 150 pounds.

An eight-point buck was killed near Parkstown Corners Monday morning at 10:18 by Robert L. McVickers of 435 West Grant street. McVickers got out of his car at 10:15 and brought down the buck three minutes later. It will weigh about 180 pounds dressed.

New Castle's flying huntersmen, Joseph Gargam of 314 Northview avenue and William Boalick of R. D. 5, called Pa Newc early this morning on long distance to report that on Monday at 8:30 a.m. they brought down a four-point buck near Marionville, in the heart of the big game country. Britain Has Modified Her Palestine Stand

By JOSEPH L. RANFT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Britain modified her Palestine stand today and submitted a resolution to the United Nations Political committee combining the original partition plan with the Bernadotte proposals.

After Canada has formally endorsed the American viewpoint favoring the main partition boundaries outlined in the U. N. Assembly plan of November 29, 1947, the new British resolution was introduced.

Harold Beeley, who presented the resolution for Britain, said it must be made clear that Britain does not accept the November resolution as the basic starting point of a Palestine settlement.

Beeley said: "We are accepting the United States suggestion to lay down no single exclusive statement as a basis for the commission's work."

He was referring to a conciliation commission provided for in the American resolution. This body would map a final plan for submission to the assembly at its next session.

The original U. N. partition awarded the Negev desert area in the south to the Jews. The slain Count Folks Bernadotte, in his last report, recommended that it go to the Arabs.

Army Draft Call For January Is Reduced

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Army today cut its January draft call from 20,000 to 10,000 men because of military budget limitations.

At the same time, the Army set its draft quota for February at 5,000 men.

The Army said that the reduction was "necessitated by the limitation of the military budget for fiscal 1950 at 15 billion dollars, of which 800 millions are for stockpiling of strategic raw materials."

When the Army's budget was approved by congress in the last session, the budgetary strength limitation for the end of fiscal 1948—June 30, 1949, was set at 790,000 men. Authorized strength was 837,000, but funds were voted only for the smaller figure.

Today's announced cut indicates that the army will not reach its figure of 790,000. As of Nov. 1, total officer and enlisted men strength of the army was 845,067. No breakdown of the military budget for fiscal 1949 has yet been

Recruiting Center To Start Inducting Here In December

Ambridge Draft Board Sends 20 Men For Pre-Induction Examinations Today

Men examined at the New Castle main recruiting station during the early weeks of November will be the first to be inducted into the army at the Army Center here since the passage of the selective service act.

Capt. Charles Weddle, commanding officer, said today the inductions would not take place until late in December. Local men that have previously been drafted under the selective service law were sworn into the service in Pittsburgh.

Twenty men from Ambridge arrived Tuesday morning at the recruiting station for their pre-induction physical and mental examinations. The men now being examined are part of the December quotas of the various draft boards in the five county area served by the local main recruiting station.

LONDON FOG PERSISTS

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Thousands of square miles of Britain remained shrouded in fog today for the fourth straight day.

Cunard White Star Line officials announced that because of the fog the Queen Elizabeth will not sail from Southampton before 4:14 a. m. EST, Wednesday.

The giant luxury liner has been delayed for two weeks at her Southampton berth, because of the New York dock strike and the heavy fog.

Five Millionth Auto This Year Is Made Today

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The five-millionth motor vehicle built in 1948 will roll off an assembly line somewhere in the United States or Canada today.

Wards automotive research estimated total production for 1948 at 5,513,000, second only to the all-time of 5,621,715 vehicles turned out in 1929. Passenger car production alone is expected to hit 3,866,000.

Jews And Arabs Sign Agreement To Cease Firing

JERUSALEM, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Jews and Arabs formally signed a cease-fire agreement for Jerusalem today, and all shooting is said to have ceased in the holy city.

The pact is the result of direct talks between Israeli army officers and officers of the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion. It marked the first time that Arab and Jewish representatives negotiated directly toward an armistice.

The cease-fire was directed not only at regular armed forces in and around the holy city, but to irregular units.

Major Step
Jewish circles hailed the completion of the armistice as a major step toward a Palestine-wide settlement. It was believed the way may have been cleared for direct talks with King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan.

The battle-scarred holy city has experienced small arms fire, mortar and artillery blasts steadily since the United Nations voted for partition a year ago yesterday.

High Students Celebrate Winning Football Championship

Monday was a day of celebration in New Castle as the student body of New Castle demonstrated in the streets of the downtown section Monday afternoon. In the first ranks of parading students pictured above can be seen portions of the goal posts brought back as souvenirs.

Evacuation Of Americans In China Speeded

Mass Aerial Evacuation Of Diplomatic Personnel Is Directed

BATTLE LINE MOVES CLOSER TO NANKING

NANKING, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The bulk of Chinese Nationalist troops around embattled Suchow were reported marching south to Pengpu today to engage the Communists in a stand closer to Nanking.

Pengpu is about midway between the 200-mile stretch separating Suchow and the Nationalist capital at Nanking.

More Evacuations
The new Communist threat to the capital prompted U. S. officials to order the mass aerial evacuation of American diplomatic personnel in China. Evacuation of U. S. citizens by boat already is underway at Shanghai.

Reports from Suchow said that only the government's 74th Army under Gen. Chao Chieh-Hsiang is remaining in the battered northern city.

Government forces were said to have formed a horseshoe north of Pengpu, awaiting the Communist's first onslaughts.

U. S. embassy officials said wives and children of embassy and consular employees will be flown to Manila beginning Thursday by American Navy transport planes.

Madame Chiang's Plea Not Likely To Meet Success

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek of China flew to the U. S. today to face almost certain failure in a plea for immediate aid to save her husband's government from Communism.

Washington quarters believe there virtually is no chance of the first lady of China winning a large scale commitment of military supplies or economic support.

Madame Chiang arrives in San Francisco today at noon (PST). She is due in the American capital at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

She will be shown official courtesy but the attitude in Washington appears to be one of letting China go as a bastion against Communism rather than extend the Truman doctrine to that area.

Japan's Doomed War Criminals Given Respite

Gen. MacArthur Grants Reprieve Pending Action On Supreme Court Appeals

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Nov. 30.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur granted a temporary reprieve today to all seven of Japan's doomed war criminals, pending action by the U. S. Supreme Court on Appeals filed by two of them.

The Allied supreme commander replied "certainly not" when asked whether ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and his six colleagues would be hanged before America's highest tribunal decides whether or not to intervene.

Given Short Respite
The condemned Japanese war-mongers, thus were given a respite expected to last for several days at least. The hangings in Tokyo's Sugamo prison were not expected to take place before next week.

Postponement of the scheduled secret executions was announced shortly after word reached Tokyo that petitions challenging two of the death sentences had been filed with the Supreme Court in Washington yesterday.

The pleas, disputing Gen. MacArthur's right to set up the International Tribunal that condemned the Tojo group, were entered in the names of Gen. Kenji Doihara and Koki Hirota.

(A supreme court spokesman said in Washington that if the court follows its usual procedure, it will consider the appeals at a regular session Saturday and hand down a decision next Monday.)

(The high court is now in recess. However, Chief Justice Vinson could call a special conference for the justices to consider the petitions immediately.)

(The spokesman explained that the court has refused to intervene in the past in all cases appealed from the decisions of international tribunals.)

Rump Parliament And Mayor Elected By German Reds

Fritz Ebert Is Elected As Mayor Of Berlin By Rump Assembly

BERLIN NOW SPLIT IN HALF POLITICALLY (BULLETIN)

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(INS)—German Communists backed by Russia split Berlin in half politically today, electing a rump parliament and mayor who was cheered by 300,000 Reds in the Berlin streets.

The Communists thus made an outright bid for full political control of Berlin.

In Frankfurt, U. S. Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay, reacted sharply to the Communist action.

He commented: "It is an amazing thing for a new government to create itself to replace an elected government, especially when the people will have a full opportunity to vote in the elections coming Dec. 5."

Clay was referring to the municipal elections scheduled for Sunday in the western sectors. Soviet Military Governor Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky has protected these elections as a move splitting the Berlin administration.

American and British forces in the western sectors are on a constant alert basis in case the Communist political move should lead to violence.

Ebert Is Named
Fritz Ebert, son of the late President Friedrich Ebert, was chosen as mayor by the rump assembly.

He introduced himself to the huge crowd jamming Unter Den Linden as "your new lord mayor" and was saluted by the throng which carried banners and placards attacking the Marshall Plan and the western powers.

Air Force Plans Bombing Exercises Over Dayton, Ohio

DAYTON, O., Nov. 30.—(INS)—The U. S. Air Force will open its greatest peace-time bombing exercises in history this week, with the highly strategic industrial city of Dayton as its target.

Wright-Patterson air base officials said strategic air command bombers from every part of the country will converge on Dayton within the next few days to carry out intensive simulated attacks against the heart of the city.

Air officers did not give the exact time this "operation obliteration" would start but said it would be carried out over a two-month period with at least part of the bombing runs to be made at night.

SEARCH WOODS FOR HUNTER AGED 74

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Nov. 30.—(INS)—Game wardens and hunters were searching in the woods on Medix Run in Clearfield county for a 74-year-old hunter who has been missing since Monday morning.

RUMP PARLIAMENT AND MAYOR ELECTED BY GERMAN REDS

the thousands into Berlin from the Soviet-occupied eastern zone of Germany.

Sing Red Internationale

At conclusion of the street demonstration the crowd sang the Communist Internationale.

The Communists set up their own regime in the face of a warning by U. S. commandant Col. Frank L. Howley only yesterday that any forceful attempt to seize the city will fail.

Ebert, whose father was president of the German republic established at Weimar after the first world war, was picked as mayor in opposition to the Berlin regime recognized by the western powers at a meeting in the bomb-damaged Berlin State Opera House.

Addressing the Red-banned session, Ebert said:

"I am taking over as lord mayor. The new magistrat represents the true will of the entire Berlin population."

Precedes Outdoor Rally

The action took place prior to an outdoor rally before the Berlin university on Unter Den Linden, designed as a show of Communist strength to discourage democratic elements in the western sector elections scheduled for Sunday.

Ottomar Geschke, deputy speaker of the old assembly which combined both East and West Berlin, administered the oath of office.

The election of Ebert means that the Communists finally have reached the showdown stage in their attempts to discredit the western Berlin municipal regime that is backed by the U. S., Great Britain and France.

The "rump" assembly voted unanimously for the immediate resignation of Ferdinand Friedensburg, who has been acting mayor during the illness of Frau Louise Schroeder, the lady mayoress of Berlin.

The new Berlin formula was drawn up largely by Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, who steps down as Security Council president today.

He is expected to make his parting gesture an appeal to the little six to press their efforts for a successful settlement of East-West differences.

Argentine delegation circles confirmed that Bramuglia had met last night with Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, but would not comment on press reports that the Soviet official had already signified his acceptance of the formula.

American sources in Paris likewise, said that western delegates discussed the plan but gave no indication as to their final decision.

Sixty U. S. citizens will leave aboard the converted destroyer Bass tomorrow, and 500 others are scheduled to sail on the Army transport Anderson Saturday.

The embassy's announcement, reflecting the swiftly mounting Communist danger in the Nanking-Shanghai area in the heart of China, stated:

"This action is being taken in consonance of previous warnings to American citizens who have no compelling reasons for remaining that they would be well advised to move to areas of greater safety."

The mass exodus of Americans and other allied nationals developed as the bulk of an estimated half million Communist troops developed a vast pincer offensive aimed at knocking out the government's principal forces shielding the lower Yangtze valley.

Seems as though grandma and grandpa, mom and pop, Junior and Susie and all the rest of the family were downtown at the same time Monday evening doing their pre-Christmas shopping. At nine o'clock, every bus pulling away from the downtown section was jam packed with shoppers whose arms were laden with bundles.

Obedying the urge to mail early, several local residents have already been to the post office and sent their Christmas cards on their way. Mail handlers report that many cards have already gone through the cancelling machines. Expectations are that a record number of the greeting cards will go through the clerks' hands in the next few weeks.

After being almost swamped with special issues of stamps during the past few months, local stamp clerks in the downtown post office are breathing a sigh of relief that the special stamp issued this year. The final stamp for the calendar year will be one in honor of Joel Chandler Harris and will first make its appearance at Eaton, Ga., on December 9. With the new stamp machine in the lobby of the post office, the clerks will not have such a great demand for stamps for Christmas cards.

City workmen are still being kept quite busy cleaning out catchbasins of storm sewers which have become filled with leaves and other debris in the past few weeks. The men were observed working in the North Hill section near the Jameson Memorial hospital Monday.

Large piles of cinders stacked about the county highway system, shows that the highway department maintenance crews have not been sleeping during the past summer and fall months. The men have been unloading the ashes from railroad cars for some little time and have them fairly well distributed about the county ready for use in a moment of time if needed.

John Brahe of R. D. 1, Edenburg, is one of the fortunate Lawrence county hunters who stayed home and still got his deer. Brahe sighted a 200-pound, 8-point buck about Tuesday morning near Nashua bridge and wasted little time in bringing him down. John's brother and nephew bagged deer in the same vicinity Monday.

Robert E. Hogue, R. D. 1, Ellwood City, whose brother, Bill Hogue, Jr., of the same address brought down a fine deer near Princeton on Monday duplicated his brother's feat a few hours later. Bob was hunting near Breakneck bridge over the Slippery Rock creek when at 4:45 p. m. Monday he brought down a 195-pound, hog dressed, buck bearing nine points.

CRIME

It may be, since we have had an extra tax added, that we will be able to get a little more protection, and especially on the North Hill.

It is hardly safe any more, for a lady to get off the bus, and if she lives on a side street, proceed to her home, without having her purse snatched, and even though in doing so, they have to injure the owner.

Maybe a little shot might put these boys into the straight and narrow path, instead of making future youthful handouts out of them.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin, en train, with the off-the-shoulder neckline outlined with a wide bertha collar edged with Valenciennes lace. Her fingertip veil of French illusion, falling from a satin half-hat, was edged with the same lace. In her shoe was a lucky sixpence.

As maid of honor, Miss Corinne Irwin, of Providence, R. I., Alpha Xi Delta sorority sister of the bride, wore a gown of olive green taffeta with a sheer yoke above a square collar. Her headdress was a band of bronze chrysanthemums and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Cole, of this city, and Maspeth, L. I., Miss Bette Brown, of this city, and Miss Mary Emily Frey, of Great Neck, L. I., wore gowns of melon taffeta similar in style to the maid of honor's, with headbands of yellow mums and carried bouquets of the same flowers.

Franklin May, of Sheakleyville, Pa., served the groom as best man and ushers were Frederick Reding, of Providence, R. I., Lawrence Tomkins, of Ossining, N. Y., and LeRoy Paul, of Saxonburg. All are Phi Gamma Delta fraternity brothers of the groom.

Mr. Frey, father of the groom, who formerly sang with the Metropolitan Opera, was the soloist and sang "I Love You" and the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. W. H. Luikart was organist.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 75 guests at The Castleton. Refreshments were served buffet style from a table centered with a tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Frey left by car for an undisclosed destination and will continue on to New York City where they will be at home in an apartment in Greenwich Village for six weeks preceding Mr. Frey's next assignment.

Mrs. Frey who graduated from New Castle high school and Allegheny College where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity, has been employed as a chemist with the American Cyanamid Company here.

Mr. Frey, a graduate of Great Neck, L. I. high school, and Allegheny College, is a chemist with the Coca-Cola Export department. He flew home from Japan for his wedding.

Buying your next new car "For keeps"?

Here's a durability story you shouldn't miss!

If you're a value-minded, long-range buyer—here are some quick facts you'll want to keep in mind . . .

1. Of all the Packards built—in the last 49 years—over 50% are still in service.

2. It's commonplace for Packards (many of them in tough, round-the-clock commercial service) to roll up more than 400,000 miles apiece before being retired.

3. Today's new Packards are more durable than ever. Proof: Periodic service records, submitted by all Packard dealers, show that service needs of the new Packard Eights are the lowest in Packard's 49 years of precision manufacturing!

That's just part of the value story behind this distinctively-styled Packard.

So if you're buying your next new car "for keeps", you'll want to hear this Packard story in every exciting detail. Come in!

WASTEFUL RED TAPE

Former President Hoover, as chairman of the Commission on organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, said recently that the studies now being made will point the way to savings of billions of dollars. It was not disclosed what the commission proposed to effect economies on that scale.

Now Mr. Hoover has drawn the curtain on one contemplated reform that will, if adopted, substantially reduce the government's outgo. The federal establishment's present practices in procuring needed supplies are uncoordinated and tangled up in a mass of red tape prescribed by law. By bringing intelligence to bear on this chaos, Mr. Hoover says, the government can cut its expenses by approximately $250,000,000 a year.

That is a sizeable sum of money. But it is quite obvious that there is plenty of room for improvement when, as Mr. Hoover notes, the paperwork for half of the 3,000,000 purchases made each year by civilian agencies costs more than the materials bought. It costs more than $10 to put an order through and 1,500,000 of the orders issued annually are for transactions of $10 or less.

Russell Forbes, former commissioner of purchase for New York City and head of the "task force" assigned to this particular problem, finds that the federal supply operations suffer from five "underlying deficiencies." Two of them seem to be of prime importance. If there is "no wide recognition of supply as an important executive function," that is one cause of inefficiency. If a "maze of laws and regulations surrounds the whole process with unnecessary red tape," that is another.

The commission will call for a government-wide supply system, capably staffed with expert purchasing men, and laws that will permit the system and its personnel to work. It should not call in vain.

WILL BE FEW TAKERS

The Russians are taking to the airwaves to tell their story to the "millions of Slavs" in this country. Each Thursday evening they will present to listeners on this side of the water a "genuine picture" of the situation in Russia and the satellite countries.

The bill of fare will also be generously laced with information on Russia's role in the "struggle for peace." Presumably the downtrodden minorities and racial groups of Slav descent will receive aid and comfort galore.

It is difficult to see the point of the program, unless it's a tacit admission that the "Voice of America" is making more hay than the reds care to admit. Aside from the fact that the "genuine" quality of any Russian broadcast is suspect on the basis of past and current records, it is easy to see some good reasons why the program will be a flop.

If the decline of the foreign language papers in this country is a barometer, any foreign language broadcast from Europe will be heard by groups that are constantly becoming smaller. A very small percentage of U. S.-born children of foreignborn parents are bi-lingual. Then there's the fact that monitoring of foreign short-wave is low on the list of leisure-time activities in the American home, even when the right kind of radio set is handy.

LIKE A BLOWN LEAF

The Navy's newest jet fighter plane, the XF7U-1 "Outlaw," in its first publicly-announced flight the other day, was described as climbing "like a blown leaf, turning and twisting with dazzling grace." That's good writing, but more important, it's apparently a good airplane.

The world's speed record of 670 miles an hour dates from September 15, when the Air Force's F86 showed something of what it could do.

The Navy "clearly expects no difficulty" in its new plane beating the full speed of the F86. That should possibly put the Outlaw through the sonic barrier of 760 miles an hour. There will be a year of land tests, however, before it may try its first carrier landings and take-offs.

Secretary Forrestal had a good point when he said he was all for unification between the services, but the new efficiency need not out all the rivalry. He cannot help being pleased to see the Navy and the Air Force out to outflank each other.

PROSPERITY PARADOX

With employment rising most of the time, the last three years have nevertheless witnessed a 136 per cent rise in the number of city families on relief, according to the American Municipal Association.

This is a surprising feature of the "60,000,000 jobs" prosperity which was attained many months ago.

With the rise in the number of families on relief has come also a stiff increase in the average relief payment. Total payments jumped from $6,000,000 a month in July, 1945, to $15,000,000 last July.

Inflation is the principal reason for a condition that in former times would have been considered a paradox. More jobs and higher pay mean distress to those who haven't got the jobs and pay.

Tom Dewey should get in touch with Alf Landon, who can tell him that after a while it stops hurting.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

A major victory for the American thesis that the United Nations can and should play the role of watchdog for peace was recorded today with the General Assembly's decision to retain its Balkan commission for another year.

Soviet Russia had fought with all the very considerable oratory at her command to put this commission out of existence and to compel withdrawal of all foreign military missions from Greece.

When the time came to vote, the cleavage was completed and definite. Only the Soviet Union and her satellites voted against the commission and for withdrawal.

All the others went right down the line with the United States and Great Britain.

The Balkan commission squabble has ranked with Palestine and Berlin as one of the most important problems with which the U. N. has been grappling in Paris.

Full results of the decisions may not become apparent for some time. But they clearly have put Moscow in the wrong on a vital matter and time alone can show whether or not the Kremlin will accept meekly the majority vote.

It comprised, in effect, a test of whether or not the world organization has a right and a duty to inspect real and potential trouble areas at first hand.

Used Every Strategy
Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, who led the fight against the Balkan commission, used every strategy and a great deal of ferocious language in an effort to put it out of business.

He characterized its report—alleged aid to Greek guerrillas from Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—as "garbage, junk and a pack of deliberate lies," which was something of an all-time high in un-diplomatic language.

He charged it with meddling and of having Nazi sympathies, while American and British were accused of imperialism and fomenting a Balkan war.

Vishinsky's obvious intention was to put an end to a situation which made it possible for U. N.

BOY WHO NEVER LOOKS TIDY

The average mother of the boy 12 or 13 may have a trying time with him to get him to keep himself neat and clean, to tidy up his room and to help about the home. Of course, we tend to overlook the trials this lad may have with his mother! Fortunately, Nature usually has a way of taking care in due time of the personal appearance problem of the lad, though not of sharing the family drugstore. A mother may not be greatly shocked at seeing her son at 13 or 14 suddenly "sprucing up" as he leaves for school or elsewhere. But if he should suddenly take responsibilities for sharing in the household duties she might be shocked fatally, in case she has a bad heart.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Our son, 13, has reached the impossible adolescence age, while I, on my part, nag him all the time. He never does anything without being told, sometimes several times. He knows he's to clean his room each morning, but has to be told of each separate item. He has to be sent back to clean his tub after each bath; he has to be told to brush his teeth, clean his nails, polish his shoes—and I nag at him almost incessantly, it seems.

"Outside his carelessness he is the sweetest little fellow anyone would find, and I am sure it must be my fault to a very great extent for his carelessness. His father suggests that I make no suggestions about his clothing, keeping clean or neat, and just let him go for a while until he voluntarily wants to keep himself like he should, but it would humiliate me to carry him to church or school (I teach) looking dirty and unkempt.

"We have always had fun at home. We all enjoy gathering around the piano and singing. We enjoy playing games at home and going to all kinds of athletic contests. We all go to church and both children are active in church work.

"But I don't want everything spoiled at 'at out' with my son and getting into our difficulties making our whole home unhappy. Any suggestions you can give me will be appreciated and my husband and I will cooperate in carrying them out."

As I wrote this mother, Dad is only partly wise. You do have to protect your own reputation for being civilized. Nevertheless, you could afford to overlook many small matters which you now make so much fuss about.

Rich Resources
You have rich resources in the good times the family have together. You might achieve miraculously if you would in a companionable, relaxed way, try to win him to want to resolve to put himself into decent shape before leaving the house, assuring him you are going to try to cut out nagging.

It would be well if the family were to sit down together and consider the jobs and obligations about the home. He might then choose to share in these. If all your calm persuasion fails and you still resolve not to jaw, make clear to him a few requirements, announce to him a penalty for dereliction, enforce the penalty, while you keep your tongue tied. Or, if you prefer to go on telling him, about the bath tub, try to do it without being the least bit angry. In the meanwhile try to have more family enjoyments and to win more of the lad's affection and esteem. (My bulletin, "How Teach Child to Help at Home," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

observers to see what is going on in the Greek mountains, where Communist guerrillas have been able for many months to wage a miniature modern war.

The Balkan commission is satisfied that supplies are coming from Greece's northern neighbors and that guerrilla troops are being trained and equipped on foreign soil.

U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles won wide sympathy for the western powers' stand when he emphasized that the mere presence

Looking At Life

This is NOT a free advertisement for New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, one of the world's great caravansaries.

In the first place you could probably not get a room there if you tried. In the second place you'd have to pay at least fifteen dollars a day for a small double room if you could get one. In the third place a dinner there would cost you no less than five dollars a person and the parking of your car no less than three dollars a day. In the fourth place I don't advertise anything.

But I do want you to read part of an essay which a twelve-year-old boy wrote in his classroom when he was asked to set down his impressions of the Waldorf after his class had visited the hotel.

"We saw the great building inside and were greatly impressed," he wrote.

"But there was something far greater than the steel and the marble and wood that impressed me. The materials used in this building flowed from the factories, quarries and foundries of a great and free country. Behind the machines and tools of this industry are the representatives of almost every race and religion on earth."

"Why do they work here? Because they know it is here they can live and work in peace, never fearing communistic oppressors. So from their machines come not only the materials for this building, but an understanding born of those working for a common cause."

I am writing the boy's next paragraph in capital letters and I hope that every paper that prints this column will publish it that way:

"NOW, SHINING IN THE SKY, IS NOT ONLY THIS BUILDING, BUT A SYMBOL OF A FAR GREATER ONE, ONE OF TOLERANCE, UNITY AND UNDERSTANDING. A MONUMENT TO FREE PEOPLES EVERYWHERE. TRULY A GREAT BUILDING!"

The essay was written by a twelve-year-old boy. I am not quoting it for style or beauty of language.

I am quoting it for its sincerity and truth.

No, this is not a free advertisement for the Waldorf Astoria. It is a free advertisement for the free American people that the Waldorf Astoria is a symbol.

And of which your home is a symbol, and my home.

That home of yours and that home of mine, just like the Waldorf, was built with materials coming out of factories and foundries and quarries of a great and free country.

That home of yours and that home of mine are the result of the labors of "representatives of almost every race and religion on earth" who work here because, as the boy said, they can live in peace and without fear of oppressors.

Mr. Powers, the painter, just got through doing some work in my home. He, too, owns his own home; and his two sons, whom he trained, helped him with the work. He came originally from England.

Mr. Lohengren, the gardener, just got through getting my place ready for the winter. He, too, owns his home, just as I do, and one of his sons is a fine doctor. The name implies his origin.

Mr. Pratt, the cabinet maker, bought in a few chairs that needed repairs, and which he refinished beautifully. He, too, a man of German descent, owns his home, and you ought to see his garden!

How little those who call us warmongers know about this country of ours, when a twelve-year-old boy knows it so well!

From Me To You

By MESEBALL

Here is a meeting that you could well afford to mark down in your date book as one worth attending . . . many already have it on their "must list" for this week . . . Women especially should be interested . . . The American Red Cross, with the Council of Home Economics Women as co-sponsors, will hold a meeting Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, Y. W. C. A. The purpose . . . to bring to the ladies of this community some straight forward information concerning Nutrition . . . One of the most able speakers in the United States will be present . . . Mrs. Anna De-Planter Bowes, Chief Division of Nutrition for the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Mrs. Bowes will tell all . . . and really there is a lot to tell . . . how a balanced diet for example will do wonders in keeping down . . . There will be nothing fancy about the ideas expressed . . . Nothing will be recommended that will unsettle your budget . . . In fact it will probably be so that you will profit two ways in your budget . . . Better and more interesting menus . . . and better health in your family . . . which leads to better family cooperation, which means better times. It could also mean that you would enjoy your friends more because good health makes it possible to be more agreeable.

Everyone who is interested in better feeding of their families . . . can now consider themselves invited to this very interesting meeting . . . Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, Y. W. C. A. building.

Here is a local problem that has many people stumped . . . When a bus load of people arrives at the corner of Mill and Washington . . . let's say from the East Side . . . and wish to make a change to the bus going north . . . They see the North Bound Bus as they start to disembark from the East-West Bus . . . but they can't board the North Bound Bus, because it pulls out before they can cross the street . . . This happens when the directions are changed . . . Why is it thus? It seems to some bus passengers that the bus drivers do it on purpose . . . Could that be so? Or is it because of a very rigid schedule?

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Need New Plan At Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Since President Truman returned to Washington, a number of callers have been urging on him the necessity to bring into his administration men with new ideas and new energy. Among them are many of the liberal Democrats who helped, as the final election returns in state after state clearly show, to achieve the Democratic victory.

Behind their urging is the fear that unless positive, creative, constructive action is taken, the Truman administration will fail to make good on promises of the campaign. As was demonstrated in 1946, when the president had at least a nominally Democratic congress, it is not enough merely to send messages proposing this or that program.

Recent Caller
One of the recent callers was Chester Bowles, who was elected governor of Connecticut by a narrow majority although the state's electoral votes went in the Republican column. In many ways Bowles is typical of the new forces in the Democratic party that are certain to play a more and more important role in the future.

In partnership with William Benton in a highly successful advertising firm, Bowles made a tidy fortune. When they sold their firm, both men decided to devote themselves to public service.

As head of the Office of Price Administration during the latter half of the war and in the immediate postwar aftermath, Bowles had a job that was tough and demanding with little chance, or so it seemed, to win personal popularity.

GRATE FIRE
The northwest wind in the evening came

And rattled each door and each window frame.
Between the houses it raced and roared,
As if it would loosen each brick and board.

As a tyrant who rules by the threat of might
And tortures whoever disputes his right,
The north wind thundered: "The foe I hate
Is a blazing fire in an open grate!"

"I'm king of the winds, and whenever I blow
The bliss of comfort no man should know."
But the birch logs laughed, as we sat about,
Saying: "Have no fear; we will keep him out."

Hints On Etiquette

When you meet a group of new people, do not monopolize the conversation about your own interests or hobbies or drag the talk back to these things if it is veering away. You will not make a very favorable impression if you do this.

Hard To Comprehend

By PAUL GALICCO

Forgive this scientific innocent if he is back on the subject of television again, but the things that go on in this wonderfully young and cuckoo industry really bear reporting.

I like to write about them to comfort myself because I really don't believe a word of what goes on even though I see it with my own eyes. All that happens is that I come away with the feeling that I ought to have my eyes examined.

Take for instance the mechanics of a television quiz in which against my better judgment I have permitted myself to become involved the past couple of weeks. The things I say on the program and the kisser from which the words emerge are tossed about in the air between three of New York's biggest buildings. It's enough to give a man fits just thinking about it, much less SEEING how it is done.

Appears To Be Simple Enough

On the face of it the quiz appears to be simple enough. In the CBS Channing Theatre atop the 50th floor of the Channing Building at 42nd and Lexington, four guests sit at a table as a panel with myself the chump in the middle, asking the questions.

We are shown film newsreel clips flashed onto small video screens set into our table and which simultaneously are seen on the home screens. Then the quiz questions are based on what we have seen in these pieces of news film.

Now all this sounds reasonably simple and uncomplicated and should be giving no one nightmares. But hark to how the television wizards do this one into being.

Can Get Out Of Town In Hurry

The CBS studio where these bits of film are projected is located in Grand Central Station, certainly an ideal spot and one which enables the boys to get out of town in a hurry when necessary. I believe they are talking about building a chute connecting directly between studio and station so that when they mess one up all they have to do is step in and slide down right into The 20th Century, and five minutes later they are on their way to California.

Anyway, the film is unwound in a room above the station. But we need to see it up in the Channing Building. No problem for the lads. They stick a thing called a parabolic reflector in the window and aim it at ours across the street and fifty flights up, where we have another one that catches the beam. Looks like a big searchlight reflector with a shepherd's crook sticking out of the middle of it.

So the movie in Grand Central Station are turned into electricity, pushed out the window and told to take a walloping big jump into ours. We catch it, run it through the hopper and bingo, we've got movies.

Is Just The Beginning

But this is just the beginning, because the CBS transmitter is located at the top of the Chrysler Building, which used to be the tallest building in New York until Al Smith came along and invented the Empire State. And if you know our town it stands at the northeast corner of Lexington and 42nd, or catty-corner from the Channing Building.

Well, so we do our show on the stage of the Channing Theatre, and a guy takes the whole mess, the movies and Miss Ilka Chase's handsome countenance, and the joker who reads the commercials, and my ugly phiz and Bob Considine's beak and all the eggs laid by our gags, mixes them up and tosses them into ANOTHER parabolic reflector, this one aimed up at the Chrysler Building towering above us.

Then he leans out the window and hollers, "Yoo-hoo up there, Joe. Here she comes!" You can see the receiving reflector shining way up under the spire of the Chrysler and Joe waiting there with a catcher's mitt. What he does when he gets it is not quite clear to me at the moment but I think he lugs it over to the north side of the building, opens the window and throws it all out and somehow it finds its way into your television set. Don't holler to me if you don't believe this. I am nothing but a little electronic wave these days, flying between buildings.

Implications that Jesse Jones is in perfect health because he was known to have played poker at two a. m., are resented by all poker players.

It just happens that Mr. Jones can feel terrible and conceal it. . . . After all he trained in an administration which also contained Wallace and Ickes.

Incidentally Mr. Ickes has disposed of his stamp collection for $57,585 to the amazement of people who had no idea he collected stamps. . . . They thought he collected heads.

Included in the sale were several sheets autographed by President Truman to Mr. Ickes. . . . none recent.

Natural Curiosity

We can be pardoned a natural curiosity as to what the Germans themselves think of occupation as handled thus far by the various powers, with special curiosity as to what the Berliners think about the Soviet blockade tactics. We also should like to know how they feel toward the persistent efforts of the Soviets to take over the city government, against the vote of the population, and to take over Berlin bodily instead of conforming to the four-power agreement.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUZZLES

self-rule, with inherent desire to work and produce, is showing outcroppings. While the Western Zones have enjoyed a certain measure of political freedom, they still have been under alien sovereignty in fact. In the Russian Zone, particularly in Berlin, failure of the Soviet to provide decent food and housing, along with the looting of industry and farms, is said to be creating a smoldering reaction which may burst into flame.

Sense Of Nationalism

A really revived Germany will have to have a sense of nationalism. The problem of the victors of World War II will be to permit its revival, but to keep it within rational bounds.

One way to ascertain German sentiment on these matters might be a plebiscite conducted under the strict and efficient supervision of the United Nations. If the majority of Berlin's people prefer outright Russian control, they could so express themselves; if they preferred control by the Western powers, they could so express themselves. As to the proposed unification of the former nation, or its division into East and West, they also might vote their preferences.

Not Obligated To Action

It will be objected that we are not obliged to consider the wishes of the German people in regard to the government of Germany. This may be true in the sense of strict justice. But if we are ever to get out of Germany and quit spending billions for the support of the conquered, it will only be possible through the establishment of some effective form of German government. Effective government can only come through general endorsement and support of the German people themselves. Thus it would seem reasonable to make some test of German sentiment on the questions of unification or division and on the matter of control over Berlin in the interim.

But this is a ticklish job. A decisive vote of the Germans themselves would at least open the way for some more practical program than endless spending and endless conflict.

'CHEMISTS AND STOMACHS'

Laboratory workers do some wonderful things with their chemicals. They figure out how much of the different ingredients must be melted together to make good steel.

They work out a formula for making the paper on which this is printed.

They make plans for the mixture to make the glass for your spectacles.

That is all very wonderful. You have something under your belt which is more wonderful.

The stomach takes care of the food which you give it.

The food is all sorted out and sent to the proper places.

The lens in the eye gets its share, the nails get theirs. The bones are not neglected nor the muscles either. If you have any brains they are supplied with what they need.

Energy is provided to laugh or to cry; to eat or to sleep; to growl or to smile; to swear or to pray; to jump or to sit.

Industrial concerns spend a lot of money on their laboratories.

Perhaps we would do well to spend more on the health of ourselves.

WASHINGTON CALLING

very few people ever change their attitudes or their ways. The likelihood for change, either in personnel or point of view, would therefore seem to be small.

But the liberal-progressive-laborites in the Democratic party insist that the pattern must inevitably change. The president, they point out, will begin a full term of office that he won for himself and with a mandate pointing inexorably to changes.

After his victory over Wendell Willkie in 1940, President Roosevelt went away on a Caribbean vacation. Shortly after he returned, he put forth the concept of lend-lease which helped to carry England through in the desperate early years of the war.

That kind of creative imagination is needed in peace as well as war if the world is to overcome the crisis between east and west. It is the pressing need in both domestic and foreign policy. But the weight of the past, the whole inertia of tradition, lies heavy on the present.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Zeke Poppin and his wife were the stingiest and ornierest couple in Ogunkit. Zeke died at the age of 88, and a few years later it became apparent that his wife was about to join him somewhere or other in the beyond. She summoned her one friend and said weakly, "Hetty, bury me in my black taffeta dress, but afore you do, might as well cut the back out and make yourself a Sunday-go-to-meetin' gown out of it. It's fine material!"

"Couldn't do that," demurred the friend. "When you and Zeke walk up them golden stairs what would them angels say if your dress ain't got a back in it?"

"They won't be lookin' at me," said Mrs. Poppin tartly. "I buried Zeke without his pants."

of the Balkan commission in Greece had served to diminish the fighting.

Dulles made one highly important observation in the course of the deliberations which obviously carried much weight in the assembly.

In defining the duties and powers of the Balkan commission, Dulles said that the power to inform public opinion was one of the most fundamental of all powers.

He used this definition as an implied rebuke to the Soviet system of closed frontiers and under-cover operations.

Dulles' statement brought to mind a remark made by Cuban Delegate Dr. Guillermo Belt on his recent arrival in New York from Paris. Belt said that the United Nations has aggravated the situation in Palestine by its intervention.

This has been questioned by other U. N. supporters who hold that the presence of international observers in Palestine has served as a restraining influence to some degree at least.

Even its most bitter critics admit that the U. N. has achieved one thing at least. It has made member countries conscious of their obligations and any real or attempted flouting of them is immediately exposed to mercilessly exposed to merciless

There is a hope that constant exposure of non-cooperation by any nation eventually will force an offender to bow to public opinion and mend its ways on a basis short of war. Continuance of the Balkan commission transforms some of that hope into a slight reality.

The Chinese people refused to wear glasses for many years, no matter how poor their eyesight, due to the fact that they believed that glasses detracted from the appearance of the wearer.

No War In Near Future Likely

Best Informed Authorities On World Affairs Do Not See Immediate Danger

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The best informed authorities on world affairs today do not expect war despite the gravity of the world situation.

Edwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, told the Tri-State Industrial Association in Pittsburgh Monday night, that world peace is assured for the "immediately visible future."

Canham, world affairs expert and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, called for a clear statement of American policy to be broadcast throughout the world in order that "a profound misunderstanding of the American people" can be eliminated.

Should Clean House

Referring to China, Canham said that the Nationalists must find some way to prevent the spread of Communism in the east. He suggested that the Chinese "awaken and clean out their house and then they will be able to fight the Communists."

He added: "The salvation of China is in the hands of the Chinese just as the salvation of America is in the hands of the Americans."

The young girl fell while at school about three weeks ago and a blood clot formed at the base of the brain. She was born, June 9, 1933, in Canfield. She leaves her parents, four sisters, Ada, Martha, Alberta and Judy and a brother, Nick, besides grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Barnhouse of Canfield, and her grandfather here.

Jenkins Family Safe In Georgia

Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Jenkins Only Short Distance Away From Disastrous Floods

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Jenkins, R. D. 5, talked by telephone Monday evening with their son and daughter-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Jenkins, of Avondale Estates, Ga., a suburb of Atlanta, where the devastating floods are in progress at the present time.

The call was made by Rev. Jenkins' parents to ascertain the safety of the former local couple and their two children who are in charge of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church near Atlanta. Rev. Jenkins reported that the flood waters are about 20 minutes drive away from their home and those in the immediate pathway of the overflowing banks of the West Peach river, lost everything.

Flood Develops
Normally, the river is very shallow, but a one week's rain brought the flood conditions. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Josephine Jenkins, was visiting Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins for the holiday period and has just returned to her school, Bryan University, Dayton, Tenn., where nearby flood waters are raging also. All students at the Tennessee school are safe from the flood.

In a second telephone conversation with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, students at St. Paul Bible Institute of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, St. Paul, Minn., the local couple learned that Ed and Peg are doing well at the school, with Ed having just completed a heavy holiday traveling schedule with school musical groups. The weather in St. Paul at the moment was ten degrees above zero.

SUGGESTIONS TO HOME- MAKERS FOR STREAMLINE SEWING

Sewing need not take much of a homemaker's time, if she uses new short cuts and streamlined method. There are easy and accurate methods for making a dress that will save time and give a professional look at homemade clothes.

Use dressmakers' carbon, a tracing wheel and ruler to mark all darts, tucks, pleats, pockets, and center front and back. Mark both sides of the garment at the same time.

Stayline pieces of a dress before putting it together. This prevents stretching of bias and curved parts. To stayline, machine-stitch each piece of a garment with matching thread, one-fourth inch in from the edge of the seam. The best rule to follow is to stitch from the high point to low point. Stitch a shoulder to underarm seam. Side seams of a blouse should be stitched from top to bottom. Stitch skirt piece from the bottom to the top.

Use a cloth guide to make straight, accurate seams. The cloth guide is part of standard equipment for a sewing machine. It can be found in the box of attachments which usually comes with every machine.

Machine-basting is a big time saver. Use the longest stitch on the machine and stitch pieces of the dress together. Machine-basting yields straight, even stitches and helps show the homemaker how well a garment is going to fit.

Homemakers are urged to press as they sew. A seam is only half finished until it has been pressed. Press each seam before crossing it with another stitching.

Let a dress with a flared or circular skirt hang on a hanger for 24 hours before hemming, to show up any sagging the skirt may do. Hem it after it has hung a day.

MAKE KITCHENS SAFER

More accidents occur in the kitchen than in any other room in the house. Sharp knives to use, hot things to handle, and spills which make floors slippery invite accidents.

Good design and safe practice help make a kitchen safer. Round out sharp corners and replace jutting hinged doors of upper cupboards with sliding doors. To protect the edges of sharp kitchen knives, and to guard against injury to hands, keep knives in enclosed racks. Keep the rack near the place where knives are used—but out of the reach of children.

Care should be exercised not to place the range under windows where curtains may blow out over open units and catch fire.

Comfortable heights are also important to kitchen safety. A tired person is more likely to become injured than the person who is not tired. Comfortable working heights prevent fatigue which contributes to the efficiency of the person at work. By eliminating hazards in kitchen and by combining efficiency with safe practices, homemakers can prevent many kitchen accidents.

A printed circular "Planning Convenient Kitchens" is available without charge at the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, Pa., and may be secured upon request.

CASSEROLES—A USE FOR LEFT-OVERS

Casserole dishes, especially those made with milk or sauce, often are easy and tempting way to use leftovers. To make small amounts of cooked vegetables or meats go far, mix them with diced dry bread cubes, with white sauce or cheese sauce in a hot casserole dish for luncheon or supper.

NEW FASHION TERMS

New words come with the new look in the fashion world. Here is an explanation of some of the new terms to style-minded homemakers who will find them on new labels. The redingote is appearing again. It is a fitted coat worn over a contrasting or print dress.

Fashion experts are featuring shoes with the Louis heel, curved in outline, and flared at top and base. A baby Louis heel is the same shape, but lower. Louis heels are farther forward than regular heel. The Dutch Boy style in heels is broader than the Baby Louis and has a slight curve or slant.

Toque, Watteau, and cloche are terms for new style hats. A toque is a small, close-fitting hat with no brim. The Watteau has a flat crown, rippling front brim and turned-up back brim. Watteaus are dressy, feminine hats. Cloche hats fit the head and have small brims that are either even or irregular in width.

New fabrics also share in the fashion spotlight. Sunbak is a new fabric, wool on one side and satin on the other. It can be used for evening wraps and is popular for zip-in coat linings.

Bayadere is a new type of print. The design is in stripes of strongly contrasting colors running across the fabric.

Before the discovery of the value of ether as an anesthetic, it was often inhaled for the exhilarating effects it produced.

Can't Sit! PIN-WORMS CAUSE FIDGETING AND THAT AWFUL ITCH

One of the warning signs of Pin-Worms is a nagging rectal itch which often causes fidgeting and broken sleep, and may lead to even more serious distress. It is no longer necessary to put up with the trouble caused by Pin-Worms, because science has at last found a way to kill these stubborn little pests easily and safely. Get JAYNE'S P-W as the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially recognized drug element which has proved very effective in dealing with this ugly infection. The small P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

The Lansing Man was a name given to a partially dismembered human skeleton found in 1902 under 20 feet of earth near the Missouri river, at Lansing, Kans. It is now generally agreed that it does not represent an ancient type of man. The skull is now in the United States National museum.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

A SECOND INTRODUCTION

"What should I do in a situation such as this: I was recently introduced to someone who said she had met me before. The lack of enlightenment in my face led her to remark further, 'You don't remember me, do you?' When I answered, 'No, I'm sorry but I don't,' her face fell. After a while it all came back to me. I had met her before but I remembered her too late. What should I do when next confronted with a similar situation?"

Answer: Be diplomatic. Always, even if you must to be so, tell a little white lie. If you had said: "Oh, yes," instead of "no" she would have recalled your last meeting and it would all have come back to you.

Your definite "no" embarrassed the woman and made her unwilling to pursue the subject further. It is not very flattering to be forgotten and to hear the condemning admission before others.

When introduced, pay attention to names and faces. People who are social and business successes have so trained themselves that they never forget a face. If your memory is so poor that it cannot carry such reflections, you must resort to white lies or subterfuge. Never bluntly say, "I don't remember you even if you really don't."

Question: I have always heard that it is impolite to refuse a dish while at table. Isn't this idea out-moded and old-fashioned?

Answer: No. It is still considered impolite to refuse dishes while dining away from home. Take a small portion and make a pretense of eating it, since such refusal will naturally distress your hostess.

WEDDING AUTOMOBILES

"Please give me information on wedding automobiles. Who should ride with whom to and from the church?"

Answer: The best man and groom should go together so that they will arrive about 20 minutes before the bride's arrival. Ushers may go together or separately in their own cars. The bridesmaids and maid-of-honor should ride to the church in a car supplied by the bride's family. The bride's mother should ride along to the church. She should be the last person seated before the bride's arrival. The bride and her father should go to the church together.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom, if there are sufficient cars, should go alone to the place wherein the reception is to be held.

Other members of the wedding party should go in another car or two according to their requirements. Of course, in this endless era of insufficient automobiles any desirable arrangement best suiting individual requirements might be made.

Question: Just what does a modern girl's "hope chest" consist of? Are glassware and other such household utensils included?

Answer: It consists, usually, of linens for her new home and lingerie for the bride. Glassware and other such items are frequently received as wedding and shower gifts. A prospective bride may buy her own if she desires.

Question: Is it always essential that a girl have an announcement party before wearing her engagement ring?

Answer: If she intends to have an announcement party, it should occur before she wears her ring in public. Otherwise, everyone will know it and the party will be unnecessary.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

The word "dollar" was derived from the German "thaler," which is an abbreviation of "Joachimsthaler," a piece of money first coined in 1518 in the Valley of St. Joachim, in Bohemia.

Cheerleaders Get Praise For Work

Cheerleaders Bow From Their Senior Year After Having Done Jobs Well

Ne-Ca-Hi's unsung heroines behind the WPIAL championship team of 1948 are the cheerleaders—who have spurred our team on to victory with their spontaneous enthusiasm.

Perhaps during this exciting football season which has just ended, there has been little said about the Ne-Ca-Hi cheerleaders. This was not intentional. Football fans from all over know the spirit of these girls and the effort they put forth in bringing out the school spirit with their cheers.

Without complaining the girls were always present on the field, rain or shine, warm or cold. To be a cheerleader is not exactly an easy job. Practice is needed, and more practice. They were always ready with a morale-building cheer, and they always put the feeling and spirit across to the fans.

The cheerleaders, who are all seniors: Barbara Homan, Peggy Floyd, Barbara Marquis, Allene Morrow, Mary Lou Rocks, Nancy Johnston, Mary Lou Sarbo and Phyllis McKenzie.

BRITAIN HAS MODIFIED HER PALESTINE STAND

the Arabs although it is now virtually under Israeli military control. The British resolution represented an attempt to synchronize the November resolution with the Bernadotte plan, the latter being utilized when any of its suggestions are regarded as helpful by the conciliation commission.

Exchange Of Territory
This would open the way for an exchange of territory. It has been suggested that the Jews give up western Galilee in exchange for the Negev.

Soviet Russia's Semeon Tsarapkin maintained that despite successive revisions, the British resolution still embraces the fundamental ideas of the Bernadotte report—namely cession of Arab parts of Palestine to Trans-Jordan.

Tsarapkin insisted that the settlement adhere strictly to the November resolution, creating an independent state in the Arab portions of Palestine. The Russians added:

"Any other solution would merely increase the tendency to use the U.N. as an instrument of Anglo-American policy, which is egoistic and opposed to the interests of the Palestine people." Tsarapkin charged the U.S. with aiding Britain in obtaining assembly endorsement of the Bernadotte recommendations awarding Arab Palestine to "Britain's puppet Trans-Jordan." For this reason, he said that both countries favor settlement on a dual basis.

Police Chief Warns Against Burglars

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today issued a warning to residents to exercise care so they may not be the victims of persons who live by their wits, or thievery, during the Christmas season.

He issued some "Don'ts" as follows:

Don't fail to lock your home when you go shopping.

Don't fail to leave a light burning in an unoccupied house at night.

Don't accept packages, on which there are charges, for neighbors, unless specifically instructed to do so.

Don't carry large sums of money in your billfold, or hand-bag, and never, never, lay either down on a store-counter.

Don't cash checks for strangers.

Don't fail to take into the house, the morning or evening newspaper from the porch, or bottle of milk, if you intend leaving the home unoccupied. These are signals the place is uninhabited, and an invitation to burglary.

Don't fail to telephone Number 8 in time of trouble.

No Commissioner To Be Appointed

Streets Director James Gibson has announced that he does not intend to name a commissioner of streets in January.

Since Carmi Glover left the service of the city, the work has been carried on by William Davis and William Travers.

Mr. Gibson states that the salary which would be paid a street commissioner can be used for something else needed in his department.

BUSINESS LEADERS OF TWO COUNTIES CONFER

the most people is the best for the people," said Attorney Ray. He described the increasing demands upon the government by the people and reminded the crowd present that every dollar the government gave away had to be provided for in tax monies.

As an example of spending he derided, Mr. Ray said: "I can see no reason for a state bonus for veterans. If passed this would mean five hundred millions of dollars. This at a time when plants are crying for men at good wages."

Asks Repealers
State Senator-elect Neff called for the repeal of the Labor-Management Act of 1947, the increase of workmen's compensation allowances and the restoration of the Lake-Erie-Ohio Ship Canal Commission.

Some verbal sparks developed while Mr. Neff was speaking. He was describing a trip he and other representatives of the United Steel Workers had made to Washington, D. C., to meet "a congressman."

"The gentleman came off the floor to meet us," said Mr. Neff and we endeavored to present our problem. As we did so he tapped the spokesman on the chest with a pencil and said you fellows never were for me and I do not represent you."

As Mr. Neff said this, Congressman Louis E. Graham, pointing his finger at Neff said "I challenge that statement. I never said that and I do not intend letting you get away with such a statement."

Mr. Neff did not reply to the interruption and went on to say that he did not intend to be such a legislator. "I expect to be the state senator for all our people and I invite your comments and criticisms of my actions."

General Assemblyman William H. McCullough told of the difficulties which sometimes beset legislation and stressed the fact that if money is to be appropriated, some way of raising it must be found.

G. Browne Zahniser
"Legislators should remember they are the referees and not the players in the game of government," said G. Browne Zahniser. "Before money is appropriated some study should be made as to how it will be spent and from where the money is coming."

"I believe the Department of Labor and Industry should be strengthened in the matter of industrial relations," he continued. "It seems to me that two years should be added to the present school curriculum in order to give students a broader intellectual base in order to meet the problems of the world."

Representatives of Chambers of Commerce from New Castle, Ellwood City, Allegheny, Ambridge, Beaver, Beaver Falls, Midland, Monaca, New Brighton and Rochester attended.

Present from New Castle were J. C. Wachman, William A. Langman, G. Browne Zahniser, J. Fred Clarke, Samuel A. Mooney, William O. Mooney, George Ritter and Merl Rainier and Assemblyman William H. McCullough from North Beaver Township.

From Ellwood City the following attended: R. J. Schill, Paul Connor, Ralph Conner and R. J. Herge.

ton road. Boxes on Glenmore should be erected on the north side of the street. It will also serve Buena Vista Way and Orchard Way. Patrons who are not now served on Buena Vista Way will be served if their boxes are placed in front of their homes on the south side of the street. It will serve Shenango road from the Shenango U. P. church to the Clark farm, and the Plank road from Shenango road to the Highland Heights-Walpole road, also the Mercer road from Tanner's Gas Station to the Neshannock Township Fire Department, including Sankey Lane and the Eastbrook-Highland Heights road to the Bender residence. Residents on Evergreen avenue will now be served, and boxes should be erected on the north side of the street.

Patrons residing on King avenue, Whitney street, Oakwood avenue, Cecil avenue, Burns street, and Scotland lane from Burns street to the Youngstown road, who have been served by Rural Route No. 2, will now receive their mail on Rural Route No. 8.

Rural Route No. 5 has been extended to include Fording road. Boxes should be placed on the south side of the road. Rural Route No. 6 has been extended from Rose Point to McConnell's Mills road. Boxes on this extension should be erected on the north side of the road. Rural Route No.

I has been extended to include Gibson street and Cline street, at Enery.

Where boxes are being reset, it is of advantage to group them, insofar as possible. Boxes should be from 42 to 48 inches from the ground. It is very necessary that names be plainly painted on the boxes, on the side that the carrier approaches.

Benjamin F. McMichael is the carrier on Route No. 8, and John E. McCann, on Route No. 9. Both are new employees.

Notices, as to new route numbers and box numbers, have been sent to patrons, and they have been requested to notify publishers and correspondents of their new addresses.

Mr. Hanna states, he realizes that this is a difficult time of year to reorganize routes, and asks cooperation of patrons in his efforts to improve their mail service.

Miller Family Is Grateful For Aid Extended

Miss Martha Bigley reports that contributions from the people of the community are being sent to her plumbing shop daily to aid the family of Orville Miller, R. D. 1, New Castle, whose home on the New Castle-Ellwood road was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning, Nov. 21.

A call for contributions of money, clothes and furniture was given out by the neighbors of the Millers who were the first to go to their aid. Since then people have been most generous and the Millers are very grateful for the many contributions.

However, there are still some articles of clothing which are needed. Outside clothing, such as overcoats and jackets, are still needed for the boys. The family consists of all boys except the one 13-year-old daughter. The boys' ages run 18, eight, six, four and 1½. Any type of warm jackets or coats which will fit one of these boys will be greatly appreciated. These also may be left at the Martha K. Bigley plumbing shop, 223 South Croton avenue.

Police Court Desk Has Long History

Should the desk from behind Mayor John F. Haven dispense justice in police court be able to talk, it could tell many stories, most of them serious, because, before it was obtained from the city, it was used by former Judge W. D. Wallace in Lawrence County court house.

It is of oak, and beautifully ornamented. It is also very durable. Whether or not Mayor Haven will have the desk taken to the new city hall for police court service isn't known yet.

Japanese Denies Alleged Murders

TOKYO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—A 31-year-old Japanese, who may have gone the legendary Bluebeard one better, was under police investigation today.

Shoichi Kimura, son of a Shin-to priest, is suspected of having murdered in less than two years some of his closest relatives in addition to three wives he married in rapid succession.

Between July 16, 1945, and May 3, 1947, Kimura lost his father, his uncle, his mother-in-law, his first, second and third wives and his father-in-law—seven relatives.

Police consider these serial deaths mysterious.

Kimura denied having committed the suspected murders.

WARREN AUSTIN IS OPERATED UPON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Walter Reed Hospital in Washington reported that Warren Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, underwent an operation today, and that his condition is satisfactory.

The hospital declined to make public the type of operation performed on the ex-senator from Vermont.

It reported, however, that: "His general condition is good, the operation was uneventful and the post-operation course is satisfactory. There were no complications."

Austin recently was flown to the United States from the Paris meeting of the UN because of illness.

LOAN IS DENIED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation disclosed today that it has denied a new loan of 30 million dollars to auto manufacturer Preston Tucker.

RFC Chairman Harley Hise said Tucker's latest request was denied this month at an executive meeting of the corporation's directors.

Tucker had asked for a 30 million dollar loan earlier this year but that too was denied.

Hise said that Tucker has not submitted any new loan requests since his last application was denied.

Plan Hearings In Bell Telephone Co. New Tariff Rates

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—(INS)

The reasonableness of the rate increase proposed by the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone company was slated today to be examined initially during a three-day hearing opening December 15 at Harrisburg. The new tariff, calling for the first general increase in 24 years, was designed to boost revenues $25,000,000 a year and provide funds for expansion of facilities and increased operating costs, according to the company.

The company's proposal, which was scheduled to become effective January 21, was suspended November 23 for six months by the PUC pending an investigation.

The commission's investigation also is intended to determine whether the proposed rates are discriminatory.

The initial hearings will be held before PUC Examiner Jay Eise-man of Philadelphia, the commission announced. Commissioners who are available will be present during the proceedings.

Seek To Take State Judges Out Of Politics

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Bar Association sought public endorsement of its plans to take judges out of politics.

The association has prepared a pamphlet recommending that judicial vacancies be filled by the governor from a panel recommended by a non-partisan commission.

After serving 12 months, the appointed judge's name would be submitted to the electorate in the political sub-division involved in the first municipal election and voters would signify their approval or disapproval in the privacy of election booths. His name would be unopposed on the ballot.

If approved, the jurist would serve a full term and then could run for re-election unopposed. Repudiation by voters would force the governor to appoint a new candidate.

Pushing Proposal
A committee headed by Eugene D. Siegrist, of Lebanon, association president, is pushing the proposal.

The association's proposal is similar to the plan which has operated in Missouri for the past eight years.

A constitutional amendment, approved by two separately elected legislatures and by a majority of the state's electorate, would be necessary to revise judicial election procedure in Pennsylvania.

The association's plan would affect the state supreme and superior courts as well as county courts of record.

The purpose of the association's program, according to the pamphlet, is to limit eligibility of future jurists "to persons of the highest integrity and ability who have been selected for nomination to the governor by a non-partisan judicial commission."

No reflection was intended for any judge now on the bench, it was emphasized.

The altar of St. Paul's chapel in the Cathedral of St. Patrick, Dublin, was decorated in the 12th century with ceramic tile.

Indiana Hunting Desperate Gunman Following Holdup

WHITING, Ind., Nov. 30.—(INS)

A bandit who warned "I shot Japs on Okinawa and I wouldn't hesitate to shoot anybody here who tried to stop me" was sought by Illinois and Indiana police today.

He robbed the Liberty Savings and Loan Association of Whitings of $2,000 yesterday, repeating a similar holdup last Oct. 4 when he took $3,822 from the same place.

Police in both states hunted the man who was described on both occasions as 35 to 40 years old, about 6 feet tall, and weighing 175 to 200 pounds.

The bandit forced the manager, his son, two clerks and an unidentified customer to lie face down while he emptied the cash register of about $2,000.

Rule Or Destroy Russian Policy Seen In Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Col.

Frank Howley, American commandant in Berlin, accused the Russians today of pursuing a policy of "rule or destroy" in the former German capital.

Simultaneously Soviet Occupation Commander Marshall Vassily Sokolovsky protested formally to all three western powers against the Berlin municipal elections scheduled to be held in the western sectors Sunday.

Sokolovsky addressed his protest to U. S. Occupation Chief General Lucius D. Clay, and to the British and French commanders, Gen. Sir Britain Robertson and Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig.

Howley in his blast at the Russians said no compromise agreement on Germany is possible which could "prevent the Soviets from persisting in the fulfillment of their twin objectives of economic plunder and economic domination of Germany."

Sokolovsky's protest against the western sector free elections said the Soviets will not recognize any members elected to the Berlin city assembly.

New Castle Rotarians took an air trip to Hawaii Monday at noon in The Castleton, but only by pictures. Through the courtesy of the United Airlines, a technicolor picture "Highways to Hawaii" was shown and the picture occupied the entire program period.

From the takeoff to the island the trip was shown in detail and so realistic were the pictures that many of the members imagined they were aboard a plane.

By air the trip requires nine hours from the West Coast of the United States. By boat the trip requires four and a half days.

Elmer Morrow, Motor Tank Salesman, fills his gasoline truck at the Allentown plant.

What should a man work For?...

Put that question to Elmer Morrow, here, and he'll answer about like this:

"Well, you could say a man works for a living, but there's more to it than just that. A man has his self-respect to keep. He wants to work at a job he likes. He wants to do something useful. He wants fair pay and steady hours—with some time to himself and his family. He wants a chance to get ahead and he wants to save some money. And he wants some security in case of accident or sickness. Then, when his working years are done, he wants to know he can retire on an annuity."

Today, in Esso Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania and affiliated companies, 29,000 men and women have jobs which offer exactly these things. They have such jobs because of a company policy that was set up over 30 years ago—and developed side-by-side with our workers ever since. It is a policy based on the belief that the heart of a business is its people—that the best possible jobs attract the best possible workers.

Workers in this company today have everything outlined in the statement above—including vacations with pay.

National Guard To Enlist More Draft Age Youths

Colonel George Mitchell, commanding officer of the 229th Field Artillery with headquarters in New Castle, received a telegram Monday morning from John Strickler, commanding officer of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, instructing the local unit to enlist boys in the National Guard who are between the ages of 17 and 18½.

Prior to Monday's order men of this age group had been unable to join the guard and become exempt from the selective service act. However, current orders make this possible. Colonel Mitchell stated today that the Army will be open from 7 to 10 every evening this week to accommodate those who desire further information about joining the National Guard. The commanding officer warns that any man who is now a member of the 229th F. A. of draft age and is not attending drills regularly will have his name turned into the Selective Service Board.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osborne

WHY NOT TRY THIS?

Paternal Jealousy
"You know," said the young mother, "I believe my husband is actually jealous of the baby. He has been acting very strange and I don't know how else to explain it."

Very few people can imagine that a father could possibly feel jealous of his own newborn child. And yet such a thing happens quite often. Nor is it so unusual when you stop to think of it. The young husband has been pretty much the center of his wife's attention during the early months of marriage. They have done all sorts of things together. Then a child is coming and, too often, the prospective mother can think of nothing but the coming event. After the birth, she is even more concentrated on the youngster and has little time for the things she and her husband used to do together. It takes a pretty mature male not to feel some twinges at least and many of us do. Usually it's only temporary unless we have a deep need for a lot of affection and then it may be harder to handle.

It's a good idea for husband and wife to talk things over together. Sometimes just the fact that his wife understands what he is feeling and doesn't blame him for it, helps most. New mothers would be wise not to concentrate 100% on the junior members of the family.

Too Much Experting About China Is Admiral's Report

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (INS)—Adm. William H. Standley thinks there's too much "experting" on the situation in China. He said so after landing at San Francisco airport upon his return from a six-weeks tour of the Orient. The retired admiral, whose many public posts including a wartime ambassadorship to Russia, observed: "There are too damned many people who go to visit China for a couple of days and then come back and try to tell us what is wrong there."

Aged Woodsman Is Slain By Boys

Three Michigan Boys Are Accused Of Man's Death As End Of Crime Wave

GAYLORD, Mich., Nov. 30.—(INS)—The bewildered mother of a 12-year-old youngster involved in a murder charge sobbingly repeated one question today—"Where did I go wrong?"

The graying, 40-year-old woman was Mrs. Roy Black, a former Sunday school teacher. She and her husband conferred last night with Probate Judge Frank Libcke on the fate of her boy, Lester.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Damer, parents of 10-year-old Harry and 12-year-old Robert Damer.

Slay Aged Woodsman

The three boys were in official custody as "wayward minors" following their confession to a crime wave. Their acts ended in the slaying of aged woodsman Arthur King because he would not help cover up their absence from school.

Before white-haired Judge Libcke lay the problem of providing punishment for the young trio. Under Michigan law they cannot be classed as criminals and the murder is a "delinquency."

The judge, who has five boys of his own, told the grieving parents he would have "to punish the boys."

But he added: "A way must be found to rehabilitate these boys so they can take their proper place in society despite their mistake."

The parents agreed to forego the right of legal counsel and leave the youngsters' fate in the hands of the kindly judge.

Accident Fatal To Former Resident

Guy M. Houser, Of Irvona, Meets Death After Being Struck By Train

Word has been received of the death, resulting from an accident, of a former resident, Guy M. Houser, 58, of Irvona.

Mr. Houser, traveling in his car from Clearfield to Irvona on November 11, was hit by a train. Taken to the Phillipsburg hospital, he died two days later.

Military services were conducted from the Methodist church in Irvona on November 15 for the veteran of World War I. Burial took place in Utahville cemetery.

Prior to leaving New Castle about 15 years ago Mr. Houser was proprietor of a confectionery store on East Washington street. He lived in this city for about 20 years.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Houser, with whom he made his home; two sisters and one brother, all of Irvona.

City Hall

Further Step To Get Property

Council In Process Of Condemning Site In Seventh Ward

OTHER ACTION AT COUNCIL MEETING

Council met Monday in city hall and took another step toward acquiring the J. Logan Sample plot in the seventh ward for recreation purposes when they considered a bill condemning the property.

The solons considered the move in committee and, upon motion of Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander, who is a member of the recreation board, reported the bill favorably from committee.

It now goes to the printer and will be called up for final passage soon. The bill provides for an assessment of damages. The school district of the city recently passed a resolution condemning the property for recreation purposes. The school district was trustee, having acquired the property at tax sale some years ago. The plot is bounded by the P. & E. R. R., Lafayette street, Rabbit street and the Shenango river, and has been used as a baseball field.

Not long ago the city offered to buy from the county for taxes, the lot, but a farm cooperative association outbid the city, and the association was awarded the land. However, the city appealed the sale to the court, and a decision has not yet been handed down. However, the city November 22 started condemnation proceedings, and it has been indicated the bill will become an ordinance.

Says Assessment High
George Stevens, 520 Hillcrest avenue, today wrote council, stating that his assessment of $357.50 for the Carlisle street sanitary sewer was exorbitant, in his opinion, and asked for a conference with council. Solicitor Robert McK. White told council Mr. Stevens had not made his appeal in the allotted time, and the only move council could make would be one to exonerate him. Upon motion of Streets Director James Gibson, Mr. Stevens will be given an opportunity to appear before solons.

Asks Funds For Orchestra
Worrel Jones made a request for $1,000 of the recreation fund be earmarked for the furtherance of culture and music of the New Castle Symphony orchestra. He said rehearsals are being held on a volunteer basis and it has 50 members. He said prominent citizens are interested and several concerts will be played.

Exonerate Collector
City Mercantile Tax Collector James Mayberry on Monday was exonerated by council of the collection of $321.09, because he reported the money was uncollected because firms had gone out of business, others had been twice assessed and $61 of the sum was uncollectible.

Council today approved payment of $412.88 for repairs at Sylvan Heights golf course and $400 for a new furnace at No. 2 fire station.

Editor News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Editor:

I hope this letter reaches you and that it won't cause you any inconvenience. As you will see from my address, I live in Newcastle on Tyne, England, the most important Newcastle in the world, at least to me. I am sure that all people think the same about their own Newcastle. Well, I would like a pen friend in America, of my own sex, if possible, aged about 16½ years. My age will be 17 on the 21st of April, 1949, and I am going to make it a hobby of mine to try and have pen friends in every Newcastle in the world, to compare facts about our cities or towns, as the case may be. "My" Newcastle is a city as we have a lovely cathedral of St. Nicholas in the oldest part of the city, by the new castle, which really dates back to the time of Bonnie Prince Charlie.

I just left school in July last, after obtaining my school certificate, your graduation, I think, and I am now working for the Scottish Widows Fund and Life Assurance Society in Newcastle. I went to Ruthford high school in Newcastle for five years.

I hope that you can find me a girl pen friend and if you know of more than one, I will answer all letters, passing some of the addresses on to my friends. I would like to write to girls who will really keep up the correspondence and not drop it after a few weeks.

I shall be very much obliged if you will pass this letter on to someone else, if you cannot, or have not the time to deal with this letter.

Thanking you very much, I remain,
Yours truly,
(MISS) EILEEN A. TATE.

City Recreation Basketball Leagues Start Play Wednesday

Over 1,200 Boys Will Participate

League play in the city recreation basketball loops will begin Wednesday, December 1.

Once again the City of New Castle school board has made available the facilities of the school gyms and the city recreation board under Director Art Alexander has provided the supervision and the organization necessary to give all interested boys a chance to play basketball.

This is the fourth year of existence for the league and this year will find some 120 teams competing. All teams have been organized and captains elected by the boys themselves. Each team has the authority to carry ten players. With 120 teams in the leagues the actual playing membership is over 1,200 boys.

Three Divisions

The league is divided into three divisions. The American division includes everything north of the Mahoning Creek. The National division includes everything south of the same creek. The Mahoning division is comprised of all of Mahoningtown. Each division is subdivided into a Midget, Junior and Senior League.

In the operation of this league seven school gyms are used every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday night from 8 to 9. Four gyms are used Saturdays from 9 to 4.

Develops Material

Organizing these leagues got underway the first week of October with the cooperation of the health and gym teachers in the various schools.

This league has been very successful in its efforts to give every boy an opportunity to play basketball. All boys who are on the high school varsity, junior varsity or the junior high varsity are not permitted to play. Primarily the leagues were established to give other school boys, who were not good enough to play varsity ball, the chance to play. However in the past, many of the league players have been elevated to varsity positions.

Start Playing Young

Since the inauguration of the leagues, the basketball hoops that dotted the poles of certain streets have disappeared and the boys are now playing ball in one of the supervised gyms. As a result more boys are playing better basketball than ever before.

Under the recreation program, the young boys have an opportunity to start playing basketball when they are 8 or 9 years of age instead of waiting until they reach the junior high schools. Some may never display a great deal of basketball skill, but they all learn the essentials of fair play and good sportsmanship, a necessity for successful group living.

Leo Durocher is in hot water again. And the chances are better than fair he may move from the hot water right into Commissioner Happy Chandler's pet dog house.

East Brook High Opening Season

Alumni Will Furnish Opposition Tonight, Coach Mathews Has Two Veterans

East Brook high school Eagles open their 1948-49 basketball season tonight with the Alumni furnishing the opposition.

The Eagles have scheduled four exhibition games before the section 23 opener with Bessemer on January 4.

Coach Glenn Mathews today named a tentative starting five for tonight's contest that combines height with speed, and rookies with experienced players.

Bud Mayberry, 6-3½, 210-pound veteran, will start at the center slot. Mayberry played varsity ball last year, is a good ball handler and is especially adept around the hoop. This boy will probably give all comers plenty of trouble this season.

Pontius Back

Bill Pontius is the other veteran from last year's varsity on the team. Bill is small but an excellent ball handler and a good smart man to have on any ball club. He will be paired at guard with another little man, Darrel Rung, who is only a freshman but has shown a lot of promise and should profit a lot by these preleague contests.

Ben Fennick and Tom Jones will hold down the forward slots. Fennick stands 6-1½ and is developing into a real ball player. Tom "Red" Jones saw some varsity action last year and is counted on to add many valuable points to the Eagles totals this season.

The Schedule

Coach Mathews is not the least bit over-confident about his team's chances this year but, nevertheless, he said today that they should win their share of the ball games and give some of the sectional leaders a real tussle this season.

The Schedule:

Exhibition—Nov. 30, Alumni; Dec. 3, Slippery Rock; Dec. 7, Alumni; December 10, at Slippery Rock.

League contests—Jan. 4, Bessemer; Jan. 7, at Union; Jan. 11, at Shenango; Jan. 14, Wampum; Jan. 18, New Wilmington; Jan. 21, at Mt. Jackson; Jan. 25, Princeton; Jan. 28, at Bessemer; Feb. 1, Union; Feb. 4, Shenango; Feb. 8, Wampum; Feb. 11, at New Wilmington; Feb. 15, Mt. Jackson; Feb. 18, at Princeton.

FLOOR MEETING CALLED TONIGHT

All Teams Must Have Franchise Money Ready For Tonight's Session

There will be a meeting at 7 o'clock at the Elks club on North Mill street this evening for all teams interested in a city-county floor league. All teams wanting franchises must have their money, $25.00, ready to put on the line. No teams can be admitted after tonight.

A schedule will be drawn up after it is determined how many teams will take part.

In the talk of changes on the Giants, the first names that crop up are invariably those of catcher Walker Cooper and first baseman Johnny Mize.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

FOOTBALL is over for 1948, likewise the small game season, hunting having been good only in spots, and now the deer season is in. An exodus of buck seekers departed from the city Sunday, some of whom are as follows: Herman Steinbrink, Wally Bowers, Ray Hammond, Jim Boyd, Chuck Robinson, Henry Hamilton, John Mangino, Mike Fazzone, Ed and Jack Fritz and Neal Williams. Tommy Jones, ex-lightweight fighter, now police lieutenant, reports seeing a possum in the rear of his Wilmington Avenue residence, stealing bread which was put out for birds. . . . Albert Street and Fairmont Avenue squirrels which cling to the city instead of going nutting in rural districts, are yet around. . . . Mayor John F. Haven recalled to Councilman Joe Alexander, the time both went to Johnstown to see Ne-Ca-Hi play the Johnnies. A New Castle griddle came racing down the field, and just when it appeared he was into the clear, the bleacher seat upon which Alexander was standing gave way, and Joe dropped 15 feet to the ground. They had a difficult time extricating him. . . . Ed Bang, Sports Editor of The News, Cleveland, and Larry Atkins, have matched Jimmie Blivins against Joey Maxim in the main ten-rounder of the twenty-third annual Christmas Boxing show for the Toy fund in Cleveland. Risler Ronzi will also appear. The local favorite who stopped Paul Simpson, in Cleveland, and in so doing broke a hand, will box Steve King, of New York. Ronzi's rise should be a tip to fighters who want no part of capable opponents. Ronzi will fight anyone, at anytime, hence he is getting an opportunity to go places, if he has the ability. . . . It will be decided today by Tommy Leach of the Jefferson A. C. if a boxing show is to be held in The Arena, one week from Wednesday night. Although Cab Calloway was no capable match for Young Higgins, the fact remains, Higgins "looks good". He recently knocked out Larry Huff in Pittsburgh, and against a capable opponent ought to please fans here. Another fighter, matched against a good boy, who would draw good, is Bobby Neal of Beaver Falls. The fight that fans would like to see is Neal vs. Frank Moran. . . . Owing to the vigilance of Owen Cox, very few, if any birds, were killed in city parks, and wild life can now safely spend the winter. No doubt, Owen will scatter corn to help the wild life survive heavy snows. . . . Bass and Muskie season passes out November 30, and the "big fellows" which loiter in the Shenango in the Big Bend-Sharpville area are now safe until July. . . . Quite a number of deer hunters are at Ward's Ranch.

Gilbert Makes Plea For Fields

Council To Give City Baseball Loop President Reply In 30 Days

Len Gilbert, president of the City Baseball league, requested members of council at a city hall meeting Monday to provide a fund for new baseball fields in the city's 1949 budget.

He said: "Objection to Sunday games at George Washington junior high field has been voiced. Ryanstown field is the worst field in the city. Lee avenue field is owned jointly by the city and county and a Mr. Black. There is a hollow and people complain of the ball striking their homes."

Duca Abruzzi field is owned by an industrial concern, and games there may be played only when there is no professional game at Flaherty field. It is a short field, and fielders going after fly balls are apt to be struck by automobiles.

Mahoningtown (Sample plot) is in question, and the other fields are outside the city limits. (The city plans to condemn the plot.) Sports editor.

He said he had come to council with the league's trouble. Mayor John F. Haven said that, in regard to the Mahoningtown field, the statement was made at a courthouse hearing, the field was "no good."

Gilbert suggested this be forgotten, whereupon His Honor told Gilbert there were four good fields at Deshon, and said a baseball field could not be made in the heart of the city.

Gilbert voiced the opinion one field should be in each end of the city. The mayor reminded Gilbert that it takes money to do these things and said the city has been trying to do things for baseball after which His Honor again brought up the Mahoningtown controversy by asking Gilbert: "Did you say anything about Mahoningtown?"

Gilbert frankly said that in his opinion it was not a good field because dirt required baseballs to be changed every 1½ innings.

"There never were any 'kicks' when the games were at the P. & L. E." Mayor Haven responded. Gilbert said he would concede the point.

$15,000 Appropriated

The mayor reiterated council had been endeavoring to do something for recreation and mentioned Deshon fields, saying teams wouldn't go there to play. Gilbert said one ground there had been improved by the S. of I. and it was used by the Junior league.

Gilbert said it costs $1,000 to $1,500 to make a ball field. He stated there are 12 teams in the City circuit.

Councilman Alexander said certain monies are appropriated for recreation; $15,000 has been allotted. Your (baseball) money must come from that amount. He said the recreation commission had run carnivals in the hope of raising money for baseball, but declared he had not received cooperation from ball players.

"We're favorable toward baseball. We're doing all we can. Arthur Alexander had quite a league last year. (Arthur Alexander is the recreation director.)"

Alexander then said the recreation record of this city throughout the state is splendid, after which Gilbert said he knew the city was doing a good job in recreation.

Gilbert asked if it were not possible to devote ¼ mile to baseball. Solicitor Robert White said this was not possible, adding there is no act of assembly giving authority to put the question before the voters.

Alexander told Gilbert that through carnivals, if the mayor agreed to let them show here, some money may be raised to help build one field. The recreation board, however, would control the expenditures, he stated.

Asked by Gilbert, why not a baseball field as a war memorial. Director Alexander recalled that, a year or two ago, he fathered a motion favoring a war memorial. The mayor said he favored a building instead of a field as a war memorial.

Solicitor White said that while some may favor a ball field as a war memorial, other people may not. He said the only way funds could possibly be procured would be to submit to the voters the question of a bond issue to raise money for baseball purposes. He said there was no way by which money for this purpose could be taken out of taxation.

Mayor Haven said "we will do the best we can," adding that the city has spent more for recreation in four years than other councils had in 10 previous years.

"Your recreation program here is swell," Gilbert stated. He said the recreation program is for children and juveniles up to 21. He said that in the City league there are many 17 and 20-year-olds. He said the league wants to sponsor a midget league of 8-year-olds.

He told council that he would like the city to make an appropriation, but added that the field will be built "even if we have to beg, and we dislike doing that."

"We cannot tell you a thing now but we can within 30 days," Mayor Haven said, informing Gilbert that the funds come from both the city and school district.

Pitt Turning To Basketball

Pitt Panthers Will Open Saturday With Penn State At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—Pitt's 1948-49 basketball schedule of 24 games released by the university will call for appearances of the Carlson coached five in cities from coast to coast.

The 1948-49 Pitt squad opens its season at home against Penn State on December 4, for the first time in years, but it will be away most of the time from then on to the end.

Two Long Trips

Featuring, of course, are two long trips—one to Florida, the other to California. By utilizing the Christmas vacation, and the long period between semesters, the players will not miss a single class.

Back from the 1947-48 squad are regulars Sammy David and Dodo Cantana, the co-captains, and Mort Lerner, junior center; George McCrossin, guard. Ted Geremsky, center, and Lou Ceccoli, forward, all reserves and lettermen, are other experienced men back.

Up from the freshmen will be Bob Baumbeck of North Catholic, Mike Belich and Bob Everett of Duquesne, Bob Yurko of Greensburg and Bill Malmberg of East Washington.

Georgia-Texas In Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The three-beaten University of Texas Longhorns were selected Monday to meet the Georgia Bulldogs in the Orange bowl on New Year's Day.

Orange Bowl officials acted in the face of a wave of protests from fans and sportswriters who concluded that Texas would offer little competition for the strong Southeastern Conference champion.

High Quintet Opens With Akron Friday

McPeak Honored At Pittsburgh

New Castle High is turning to basketball Friday night, with Akron Kenmore High here for a pre-league warmup game at Washington High floor. There will be a 7 o'clock preliminary between two reserve teams, it was announced by Faculty Manager Robert Mills.

Coach George "Gig" Thomas, starting his first season as head floor mentor, finds the veteran material just a little slim. In fact only two of the first six starters last year are back. Don Reed a center and Tony Cialella. From the reserves last year Thomas will have Don Piccirillo, who got in quite a few games last year. Jim Joseph, Cliff Conti, Ben Haines, Dick Sampson, Paul Simpson, Marion Ordak, Dick Lewis and Tom Clark.

Grid Stars Report

The three football stars Cialella, Piccirillo and Joseph only reported Monday. It will take them several days to get back in the swing of things but will be valuable assets to the squad.

Austin Cowmeadow is assistant coach again this year and will be of valuable aid to Head Coach Thomas, who has supplanted Bill Douglass, now at Brentwood High.

New Castle's flippers have a tough pre-league card lined up, with Homestead, Duquesne and Ford City slated for games here and away, the latter part of December, with Butler, Ursuline, Meadville and Youngstown East also on the December program.

The Section Three race starts January 4 with Ambridge High here. By that time Coach Thomas should have a pretty fair idea of the makeup of his team.

WHITE SOX OPTION

PITCHER-OUTFIELDER

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox today optioned Pitcher Ronald Plotz and Outfielder James Busby to their Waterloo, Ia., and Muskegon, Mich., farm clubs, respectively.

Don "Pop" Longenecker, 32-year-old Penn State barrier, is reputed to be the oldest starter in college cross-country ranks.

McPeak Honored At Pittsburgh

New Castle Young Man, Pitt Captain, Will Get Sutherland Trophy

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Halfback Lou Ceccoli and end Bill McPeak were the top college football players of the year in Pittsburgh in the judgment of the fans.

The two Pitt gridders were chosen Monday by a vote at the Quarterback club. Each will receive a "Jock Sutherland Memorial Trophy" named in memory of the late coach of the Panthers.

Pitt completely dominated the balloting, shutting out Duquesne and Carnegie Tech—both of which had very poor seasons.

Runners-up were Halfback Jimmy Joe Robinson and Tackle Nick Bolkovac.

Bratton And Lee Battle To Draw

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The welter clash of Chicago's Johnny Bratton and Bobby Lee of Baltimore which was intended to produce an over-the-weight opponent for Lightweight Champion Ike Williams failed in that purpose today with the bout ending in a draw.

Bratton appeared to be the master of Lee during the early rounds at the Philadelphia Arena last night by pounding him almost at will, but apparently he relaxed in the belief that he had the fight won, and the stout-hearted Lee came on to take the late frames and earn a draw.

BOWL FRIDAY NIGHT

Elliott Stealers won one and lost two bowling matches to Ambridge at Ambridge, last week. Captain Rose Mooney was high for three games with a 458. Friday night coming, the Elliots meet the Sportsman of Ambridge, at the Castle alleys.

Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson and Steve Belloise will meet Dec. 9 at Jersey City at catch weights in a tentative elimination. The fight may be the kind that will fail to produce a stand-out challenger.

Penn State's Bob Higgins still maintains an open mind in the present controversy over the unlimited substitution rule.

First Presby Wins In 'B' Church Loop

First Presbyterian built up a large first-half margin and rolled to an easy win over a game First Methodist five in the only game played in the Class B church basketball league on the "Y" floor Monday night. Final score was 49 to 30.

The Presbys led 29 to 10 at the half and were never in danger from then on. Tim Koonce used his height to good advantage and racked up 17 points for the winners. Thomas' accurate tossing from the pivot slot netted 12 points for the losers.

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Anne (Legs) Baxter was a glamorous mass of goose pimples today.

The gal sported a pair of shorts that came clear up to here and a skin-pink sweater that was first cousin to a peek-a-boo waist.

She was doing the varsity drag, that gay and doggy old dance number of the roaring 20's, for a movie called "You're My Everything".

For the first time in 22 pictures Anne was putting her shapely underpinnings on public display. It was an auspicious occasion at the 20th Century-Fox film factory.

Betty Interested
Even Betty Grable, who possess a pretty nice set of gams herself, dropped around to see what Anne had been hiding under skirts for all these semesters.

"I'd just as soon stick to straight dramatics," opined Miss Baxter. "I'm cold."

She had never frozen in any previous roles. As a latter-day Bette Davis, she had kept warm enough to cop an Oscar in "The Razor's Edge".

Workmen on the set let loose with the movie equivalent of three-rahs-and-a-tiger when Ann emerged bashfully from her dressing room for the first scene.

"All of a sudden," she confided, "I feel as though I am nothing but legs."

She walked self-consciously up to a theater stage to join a dozen chorus cuties and Dan Dailey. Before the camera started grinding, Anne asked for a mirror so she could touch up her hair.

Director Walter Lang commented: "You're new to musicals, all right. No one is going to look at your hair, Kid."

Annie Turns Red
Annie turned a little redder. The technicolor cameraman said she would look like a day at the beach if she didn't calm down.

An assistant director hollered: "Will all you characters kindly stop staring at Miss Baxter's legs? She's got a face."

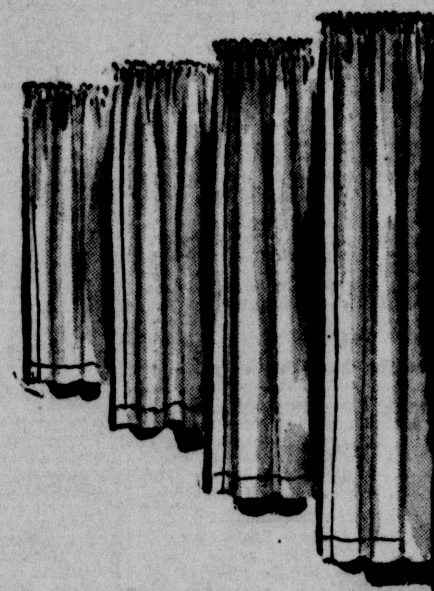

Anne went to work, shaking and bouncing like a jitterbug with a hotfoot. She was putting her everything into the dance—when she slipped and fell hard on the hip pocket of her short shorts.

Dutiful Dan Dailey, the lucky lad, helped her to her feet.

"That's nothing," he said. "I fall down a couple of times in every movie. The cameramen keep such a high gloss on the floors that you can't stand up."
